INTRODUCTION

The increasing volume of unsolicited bulk e-mail (also known as spam) has generated the need for reliable anti-spam filters. Machine learning techniques now a days are used to automatically filter the spam e-mail at very successful rates.

In this project, we will attempt to build a spam detection engine which meets current industry standards. So our model should be able to classify a given e-mail as either spam or not with a considerably high level of accuracy. We will be downloading data from the University of Campinas, Brazil website for our spam analysis.

Note: In order to run this demo, the following R packages must be installed in your R environment:

- magrittr: forward pipe operator
- stringr: string manipulation
- dplyr: Data Wrangling
- tm : text mining
- ggplot2 : data visualization

```
Clean the environment
rm(list = ls()) library(magrittr)
```

```
Warning: package 'magrittr' was built under R version 3.3.3

1. Download, Read and Transform Raw Data

The movie taglines are stored in a flat txt file. It is not a tabular data structure, so we cannot use read methods such as `read.csv()` to directly read in the raw data. In this case, we need to read all lines into a character vector. Then we can further extract information from this character vector to create a data frame.

We will download the txt file using download.file()
and unzip it and read it line by line.
This file is unstructured so we can't use read.csv
Read the text file line by line

temp <- tempfile()
URL <- "http://www.dt.fee.unicamp.br/~tiago/smsspamcollection/smsspamcollection.zip" download.file(URL, temp) #destfile = "./spam.zip", method="curl" unz(temp, "SMSSpamCollection.txt")
```

Now, let's extract important information from the character vector and construct a data frame to represent the dataset.

First, we can use `grep()` with regular expression to extract the index of all documents. Each document starts with either "ham" or "spam". (Note: "^" means starting)

```
ID <- grep("^ (ham|spam)", line, value = FALSE)
```

value = FALSE returns index numbers, rather than actual cell values
```

```
Create a data frame
```

```
df <- data.frame(ID)
```

```
head(df)
```

```

Extract Class and store them in the data frame

2. Text Analysis

2.1. Aggregate to Year Level

We choose to analyze movies released during a 40-year from 1974 through 2013.

The unit of analysis is at year level, thus we need to reate an aggregate tagline_text collection for each year of interest.

Load dplyr package
library(dplyr)
```

```

Attaching package: 'dplyr'
The following objects are masked from 'package:stats':

filter, lag
The following objects are masked from 'package:base':

intersect, setdiff, setequal, union
```

2.2. Create Document Objects

```
Load NLP and text mining (tm) packages
library(NLP)

Attaching package: 'NLP'
The following object is masked from 'package:ggplot2':
##
annotate library(tm)

Creating Corpus

SMS_Corpus <- Corpus(VectorSource(df$Text))

document.collection <- Corpus(VectorSource(df$Text))
```

2.3. Textual Data Transformation

library(SnowballC)

strip whitespace from the documents in the collection
document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, stripWhitespace)

convert uppercase to lowercase in the document collection document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, content_transformer(tolower))

remove numbers from the document collection document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, removeNumbers)

remove punctuation from the document collection
document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, removePunctuation)

Convert to Plain Text Document
document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, PlainTextDocument)

using a standard list, remove English stopwords from the document collection document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, removeWords, stopwords("english"))

Stem
document.collection <- tm_map(document.collection, stemDocument, language = "english") inspect(document.collection)

2.4 Creating Word Cloud

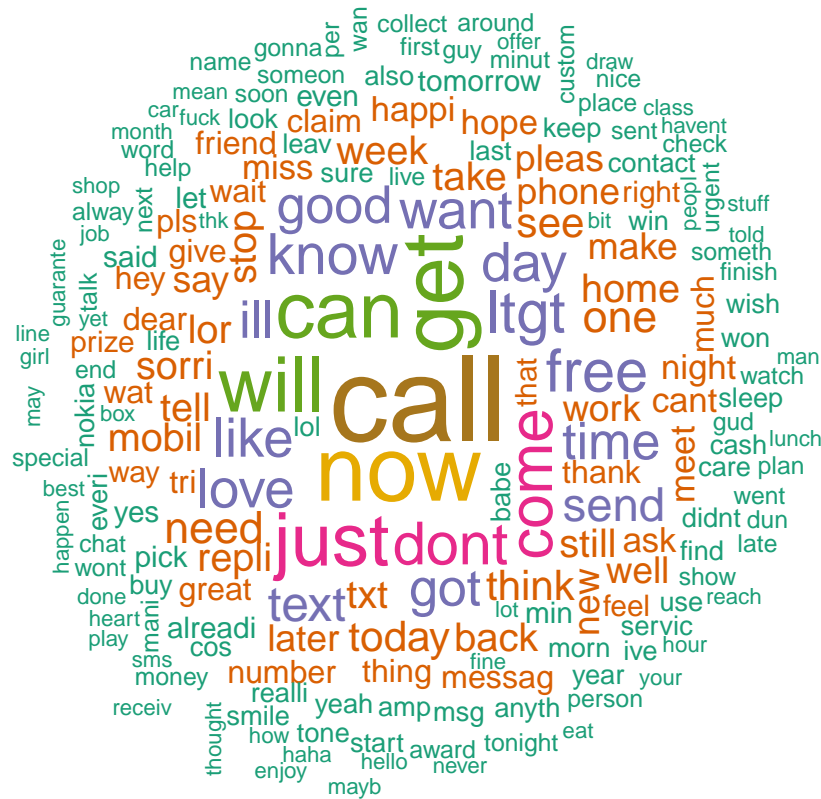

```
Create a word cloud to visualize term frequencies
library(wordcloud)
```

```
Warning: package 'wordcloud' was built under R version 3.3.3
```

```
Loading required package: RColorBrewer
```

```
library(RColorBrewer)
```

```
wordcloud(document.collection, max.words = 200,
           random.order = FALSE, colors = brewer.pal(7, "Dark2")
           )
```

2.4. Quantify Textual Data

We use the bag of words approach. First, let's create a terms-documents matrix to quantify the textual data.

```
Create terms-documents matrix as stated in the Home work
tdm <- TermDocumentMatrix(document.collection)
```

Then we can remove sparse terms from the matrix.

```
examine.tdm <- removeSparseTerms(tdm, sparse = 0.90) top.words <- Terms(examine.tdm)
print(top.words)
```

```
[1] "call"
```

There are no words with high sparsity (in this case, 55%)

```
Inspect the term-document matrix
inspect(tdm[, 1:10])
```

```
<<TermDocumentMatrix (terms: 6974, documents: 10)>>
Non-/sparse entries: 102/69638
Sparsity          : 100%
Maximal term length: 40
Weighting         : term frequency (tf)
##

To use documents as rows and term features as columns,
we need to create documents-term-matrix
Tokenizing the corpus...
```

dtm <- DocumentTermMatrix(document.collection)
```

```
Create indices of spam and ham for word cloud visualization
```

spam_indices <- which(df$Class== "spam")
```

ham_indices <- which(df$Class== "ham")
```

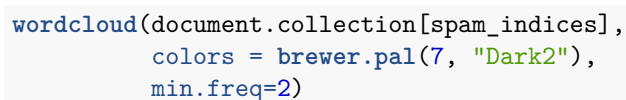

```
spam_indices[1:3]
```

```
[1] 3 6 9
```

```

```

```
[1] 1 2 4
```

```
wordcloud(document.collection[ham_indices], colors = brewer.pal(8, "Dark2"), min.freq=30)
```

and the document-term-matrix and clean corpus sms_dtm_train <- dtm[1:3902,] sms_dtm_test <- dtm[3903:5574,] sms_corpus_train <- document.collection[1:3902] sms_corpus_test <- document.collection[3903:5574]
```

```
Separate training data into ham and spam
```

```
ham <- subset(sms_raw_train, Class== "ham")
spam <- subset(sms_raw_train, Class== "spam")
```

To increase the predictive power of the classifier, we will only include frequently occurring words.

```
Set word frequency to 6 or more.
```

freq_words <- findFreqTerms(sms_dtm_train, 6) length(freq_words)
```

```
[1] 961
```

Now, we will create document-term matrices using only the high frequency words

sms_train <- DocumentTermMatrix(sms_corpus_train, control=list(dictionary = freq_words)) sms_test <- DocumentTermMatrix(sms_corpus_test, control=list(dictionary = freq_words))
```

Convert count information to “Yes” and “No”

Naive Bayes classification needs present or absent info on each word in a message. We have counts of occurrences. Convert the document-term matrices.

```
Changing variables to binary classes
```

```
convert_counts <- function(x) { y <- ifelse(x > 0, 1,0)
  y <- factor(y, levels=c(0,1)) y
}
```

```
Convert document-term matrices
```

sms_trains<- apply(sms_train, 2, convert_counts) sms_tests<- apply(sms_test, 2, convert_counts)
```

```
Changing variables to binary classes for the raw data
```

where 1 <- ham and 0 <- spam
```

sms_raw_train$newClass <- ifelse(sms_raw_train$Class== "ham", 1,0) sms_raw_test$newClass <- ifelse(sms_raw_test$Class== "ham", 1,0)
```

2.5.2 Naive Bayes Classifier

```
We'll use a Naive Bayes classifier provided in the package e1071
```

library(e1071)
nb_classifier <- naiveBayes(sms_trains, factor(sms_raw_train$Class)) class(nb_classifier)
```

```
[1] "naiveBayes"
```

Model Evaluation

We will evaluate the performance of the classifier on the test data using predict()

```
nb_test_pred <- predict(nb_classifier, newdata=sms_tests)
```

Generate the confusion matrix for the SMS_Naive_Bayes Classifier

```
Show confusion matrix
table(nb_test_pred, sms_raw_test$Class)
```

```

nb_test_pred  ham spam
ham 1435  27
spam   9 201
```

Show all performance metrics

```
library(caret)
```

```
Loading required package: lattice
```

Therefore, from the confusion matrix, our spam filter is able to correctly classify e-mails 97.8% of the time which is great.
